COMMENCEMENT TONIGHT AT HIGH SCHOOL

Wm. Rainey Bennett to Give Famous Lecture,
"The Man Who Can"

William Rainey Bennett, known to American audiences almost everywhere as "The Man Who Can," will give this lecture at the commencement address at Arlington Heights high school tonight, Friday, June 12.

William Rainey Bennett

The theme of the lecture is "The Man Who Can." In everyone is genius, sleeping generally, but it is there; it can be awakened. This lecture hopes to do it. It helps young men and women to find themselves. It inspires toward health, poise, power. Many laughs come in, but naturally. In the lecture is a famous passage, "The Wolf Chase," which Judge Ben Lindsey pronounced as good as the best Low Wallace ever wrote.

Mr. Bennett is one of the outstanding orators of the day; his lectures are based on the force and logic of strong convictions, based upon direct and intimate contact with various types of people and their need of encouragement and advancement.

"The Man Who Can" is included in a volume of what are considered the fifty best speeches by famous men and women delivered before the Executive Club of Chicago, and published by them. Not only before schools and colleges, but before business conventions and club banquets, Mr. Bennett is in great demand, filling many return engagements. It is therefore a very unusual privilege that is in store for the graduates, their relatives, friends and townspeople this evening.

Diplomas will be presented by the president of the board of education, Mr. William Mueller. The high school mixed chorus will sing before and after the main address, "Romeo in Georgia," by John Prindle Scott, and "Loyalty," by John Philip Sousa, respectively. Miss Helen Geffert will play the recessional and recessional.

Members of the graduating class are: W. Earl Koppin, president; Thomas F. Flynn, secretary; Barbara Parke, treasurer; Ann Allen, Grace M. Bauer, Wallace E. Bolte, Paul V. Cordulack, Bernice E. Diederich, Marjorie Ehard, Mary E. Eversole, Ethel Jean Fessler, June E. Franke, Dorothy S. Fredricks, Theophil Haller, Margaret M. Hansman, Dorothy Mae Helm, Francis A. Hinsberger, Gertrude S. Hinz, Viola Holste, Dorothy J. Hughes, Raymond H. Johnson, Louise Joost, Lester Lewis, Arthur W. Long, Jr., Clarence T. McKaig, Marion A. Meyer, Gertrude Moehling, Genevieve E. Muehlhausen, Ruth O. Noack, Earl A. Paine, Grace K. Rebling, Earl A. Schmitz, Alma Schroeder, Anthony Scolaro, Rudolph Seidel, Bernice D. Tatze, Wallace Arthur Volz, Herbert Weinrich, and Preston Winkelman, subject to final examinations.

The high school faculty are: V. I. Brown, principal; Carey Clark, A. M. Conger, Gladys V. Conry, Donald G. Costain, Mary A. Funk, John L. Grose, Marie L. Hartman, Raymond E. Hayes, R. Maurine Johnson, Margaret Kamlager, Edith L. Lindsey, Helen W. Russell, Everett W. Scales, Enos B. Thornton, Marion I. White, Thomas H. Wilson, Margaret S. Helwig, secretary.

The Board of Education are: William Mueller, president; George F. Schneberger, secretary; Herman Garms, Henry Ehard, A. C. Haake, Dr. A. E. Elfeld, and Fred J. Bradley.

PUT WELL BACK IN COMMISSION

Well No. 1 at the north side of the village hall was started working again by Engineer Arthur Diehl Monday afternoon after it had lain idle since March 3. The old gas engine had played out, and has been scrapped. Now a new G. E. 20 H. P. motor is installed and working smoothly, the connection being by a massive piece of belting. The well has been cleaned and pump overhauled.

This well is 152 feet deep, with 10 inch casing, and 7 5-4 inch working barrel.

RACE TRACK WATER FURTHER AWAY; NO ACTION AT MEETING

Water from the race track's system as an additional supply to be put into the mains of Arlington Heights was the project concerning which the Village Board held a special meeting last Monday night. It was supposed that a contract might be let for the necessary connection, bids for which were opened the previous Monday night.

But upon scanning the contract which the race track interests offered, there was a stipulation that the race track management would furnish water at their own convenience.

An objection was raised that during July is when the village would likely be suffering from a shortage of water, and that is the time the race meetings would be on. In any case, the race track people could not permit construction work until August, when the racing will be over.

The Board therefore took no action upon the matter, and held all contracts up until the regular meeting next Monday night.

The resolution from the Woman's club, urging that police powers of the village be used to close every place where liquor is sold, or manufactured in the village to be closed permanently, and to prevent other such being opened, was referred to the police committee. The committee has also similar resolutions passed by the Boy Scout committee and the Parent-Teacher association.

BOARD LIMITS WHISTLES ON RAILROAD

Whistles of railroad locomotives that have been generally complained of as trying to the nerves of anyone within three blocks of the tracks in Arlington Heights, are to be strictly limited henceforth by an ordinance passed at a special meeting of the Village board Monday night. A committee consisting of Trustees Schaefer, chairman, and Walter Krause, had investigated the conditions and possibilities, and consulted with Chicago & North Western officials as to their code of whistles, and the resulting ordinance may mean great relief to the nerves of the much annoyed people here.

The new section to the Municipal code which is added by the ordinance, provides that four short blasts may be made by west bound trains approaching the State road crossing; two of one second each and two of a half-second each. East bound trains will give a similar series of blasts on approaching Euclid avenue, and also Vail avenue. Otherwise there shall be no whistling except in the event of immediate danger to persons or property.

The regulation is similar to those in effect in the North Shore cities and villages. Not all engineers seem to have heard about the ordinance here, however, judging by the blasts which shake the windows of our editorial sanctum.

AWARD CONTRACT TO PAVE DUNTON

The Board of Local Improvements of Arlington Heights Monday night awarded the contract for paving North Dunton street from the end of the pavement to the end of the street, to Milburn Brothers of Rockford and Mt. Prospect, for a consideration of $40,887.00.

New Law Lets County Pave More Streets

To revise the paving program of Cook county, and lay out a new five-year program was put up to the County Highway department late last week, by President Wheelan of the County board, following the passage by the legislature of Senate Bill 971 which lessens the State's restrictions on use of gasoline tax funds for county road work.

The Chicago Regional Plan commission, the Chicago Association of Commerce, and the Chicago Motor club will be consulted in drawing up the five-year program.

Restrictions removed were that the county could not improve any municipal street unless there were a continuous pavement existing between the city limits and the proposed section; that the width between the existing curbs would accommodate the proposed pavement together with parking space on each side; and that a county pavement must be already leading up to the municipality and continuous with the street section proposed to be paved.

Where curbs, gutters and fire plugs have to be removed for improvements done by the county, such removals are to be done by the county without special assessments, according to County Highway Superintendent Gurnham.

LEGION PLANS JULY FOURTH CELEBRATION

Woodlawn Post National Champion Drill Team to Parade and Drill

A huge "sane" Fourth of July celebration will be held at Meyer's grove by Merle Guild post of the American Legion. Under the towering elms of this beautiful grove in the center of Arlington Heights, a celebration long to be remembered by local residents and people from neighboring towns, will be staged, beginning early on the morning of July 4, and continuing throughout the day.

There will be races for the children and grown-ups, a children's costume parade, six acts of vaudeville, games of skill, a merry-go-round, dancing, eats and refreshments.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners in the races, and to the groups and individual children appearing in the best costumes.

The drill team of Woodlawn Post of the American Legion, national champions of the United States for 1930, will attend the celebration in a body with their eighty-piece band and will put on an exhibition of drilling never before witnessed in this town.

Phil Engelking is chairman of the committee in charge of this celebration.

CHAMBER JOINS FIGHT AGAINST STATE LICENSES

The Chamber of Commerce of Arlington Heights passed a resolution last Friday evening opposing House Bill 881 in the legislature, which would require a state license to operate many classes of small businesses, such as filling stations, soft drink parlors, manufacturers of soft drinks, garages, and almost everything except a grocery store.

A committee on parking space reported that they are still working on the project of securing one of the railroad parks for this purpose. The committee on objectionable motives reported that finishing touches were being put on an ordinance to regulate that.

The objective is a membership of 100 by the close of this year; two were taken in at the last meeting, making 67 members to date. Although meetings in July and August will be only by call of the president, by next fall it is intended that the organization will be so built up that it will function fully as a regular chamber of commerce. It is now affiliated with the State group. It has retained also the good features of the old Business Men's association. Mr. William Muller is president.

Dues for the remainder of 1931 will amount to $3, such is the work to prospective members.

Little Ruth Zelsdorf Suddenly Passed Away

Little Ruth Zelsdorf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Zelsdorf, 722 N. Dunton Avenue, Arlington Heights, passed away, Friday afternoon, June 5, of acute dilation of the stomach. She was two years, 8 months, 11 days old, having been born in Barrington July 21, 1928. Her parents have resided in Arlington Heights about two years.

The funeral service was held at 9:30 o'clock June 8, at St. James church, the Rev. John T. Wagner officiating. Burial was at All Saints' cemetery in Des Plaines; funeral arrangements by Lauterburg & Oehler.

BAKERY IS OUTLAWED. OWNER FINED

To Appeal Case to Try to Kill Village Zoning Ordinance

Miss Rose Stier, residing at the southeast corner of North Dunton and Euclid avenue, was fined $25 and costs Monday evening before Police Magistrate Herman H. Meyer, for violation of the Zoning ordinance in building a bakery adjoining her home in the residence district. She had a building permit to build a porch, and the present entire concrete block annex is the result. Residents complained bitterly to the village board, and the complaints were referred to the board of appeals.

Miss Stier's fine was remitted on condition that she at once cease operations there. But on consulting her attorney, she gave notice that she would appeal the case, and try to knock out the village zoning ordinance.

URGES GRADS TO SET THINGS IN ORDER

Says Elders Who "Let George Do It" Leave
An Awful Mess

"To have is to owe; not to own," was the oft-emphasized aphorism the Rev. Samuel Taylor drove home to the graduating class of the Arlington Heights high school at their baccalaureate service Sunday night. His sermon was not narrowly denominational but searching and challenging from the general standpoint of the Christian Way, and especially significant for a group of young people with their life choices immediately before them.

"Vicarious Living" was his theme, and text in part: "For this cause I left thee in Crete, that thou shouldst set in order the things that are wanting (Titus 1:5); Paul wrote to Titus that he had sent him to be a missionary in a very bad environment."

"Titus could be true to Christ and live vicariously or else he could compromise," he said. "The stewardship of life was urged by Paul on this man Titus." The principle, "To have is to owe, not to own," applies to individual talents, Mr. Taylor stressed, referring to Christ Jesus' assumed well-known Parable of the Talents. Teachers had given them freely of their life's talents; pupils should go on to set in order the things that are wanting, as Paul told Titus to do.

"There are men in this country today who could set in order the things that are wanting. There are those who could set in order things from an economic standpoint today, but they are wanting." Leadership of the future, such as the present young people have the opportunity of furnishing, he hoped, will solve the problems of the future by vastly more unselfishness and intelligence than has been shown by the present generation of possible leaders. He cited the concentration of great wealth and the selfish withdrawal from circulation in the service of humanity, at the same time when recent victims of drought and unemployment are living in huts along river banks and obliged to live by foraging. Surely the new and coming generation, if they will adopt the Christian standard of "To Have Is to Owe," cannot make such a mess of it as the present adult generation have done by their selfishness and lack of vision.

Worth while living is in doing the difficult things; the hardest athletic contests are the most interesting. So the individual that attempts the hard things, "setting in order the things that are wanting," really gets the most out of life and may win the highest praise in the end. As illustrations of this truth, he dwelt in an inspiring way on the shining examples of Major General Charles Gordon, the "Good Samaritan," William Lloyd Garrison, Prof. Michaelson the scientist, and finally and especially, Dr. David Livingston, who devoted his life to hardships in opening up the continent of Africa to Christianity, and in combating the slave trade. Now crowds gather around the tomb of Livingston, where as few now are interested in the once famous "heroes" whose bodies were laid with pomp there in Westminster abbey.

He pleaded with parents, when he sent their children on to higher institutions of learning, to instill in them the thought of the idea of vicarious service, of preparing themselves to give greatly of their lives in "setting in order the things that are wanting," not just to get big pay checks some day.

"To set in order the things that are wanting in your own communities is not an easy task. May you find your place in life, and may that place be not too easy."

Flag Day Program Next Sunday Night At H. S. Auditorium

The American Legion post and auxiliary will hold their annual Flag Day exercises at 7:30 o'clock next Sunday evening, June 14, which is Flag Day, at the High School auditorium.

An interesting program has been arranged and the public is cordially invited.

As winners in the flag contest, Pauline Henry, an eighth grade student in the public school, received the highest grade in that group, and John Hull, a seventh grade pupil of St. James school, receives the other medal. Competition was keen, the winners being but a few points ahead in each case.

"At this time we wish to thank the Cook County Herald for their cooperation in this contest," writes the committee, "which has been both interesting and educational. We also wish to express our appreciation to the teachers in both schools who have made this work possible at this busy time of the school year."

Following is the tentative flag day program planned by the committee:

Star Spangled Banner, band and audience.
Invocation, Rev. Taylor.
Pledge to the flag, Boy Scouts.
Song, Community chorus.
Presentation of medals, Mr. Whitmore.
Reading, Lillian Draper Klehm.
Boy Scouts Oath and Law.
"My Country 'Tis of Thee," band and audience.
Address, Rev. H. A. Kosack.
America, Community chorus.
Benediction.
Lowering of the flag and taps, Boy Scouts.
Am. Legion Auxiliary Chairman.

Walter C. Oehler Secures the "Latest"

Walter C. Oehler of the firm of Lauterburg-Oehler, has returned from a three weeks trip to New York City, where he attended one of New York's leading schools of embalming. This particular school has special courses in Advanced Embalming and Demi Surgery, since in our day there are so many accident cases and mutilated cases that Mr. Oehler felt he wanted to especially specialize in this particular work; as this firm is called so many times to perform this kind of work.

It is the intention of this firm for one member of the organization to attend a Post Graduate Course at least once a year in order to keep in the front ranks of the profession.

With Our Thanks

We wish to express to the chief of police and men of his department, the American Legion, the Arlington theatre, our fellow merchants, and all our many friends, our sincere appreciation of their splendid cooperation and assistance toward making our second anniversary celebration a successful undertaking.

We wish to assure all those mentioned that in the future we are only too glad to extend a like cooperation to assist them in any way possible through our facilities and the resource of our business in any undertaking of a civic nature for the good of business or in the interest of the community.

OFFER LOTS FOR GARDENS. TAKERS FEW

Few Cases Helped in Winter Warm Up to Digging in Dirt

If anyone around Arlington Heights wants free garden space this summer, they can see to the plowing, planting and all the work and keep the products for their own tables and cellars; they should communicate with Mr. Dieball at the Village hall. A number of persons having lots have offered them free for the use of whoever can make good use of them. More offers of this kind will be gladly received.

The call was issued in the Herald last week by Mayor Elentia and Miss Jackson, community nurse. So far the offers of lots have exceeded the demand for them, although according to Miss Jackson, many families have been in need; and as far as indications go, may be in greater need next winter. There can be less sympathy shown adults next winter, who depending on relief work of others, disdain in summer to raise a garden to supply their families with the potatoes, cabbage, carrots, etc., needed during the winter. After the months of desperately hard work to feed the hungry last winter, it is a bit disconcerting to see those same beneficiaries refuse to help themselves for next winter.

It is predicted that there will be about as much demand for help next winter as last, and probably less response to the need; so the wise will see that their cellars are full next fall, is the view of those who have been in the relief work.

The season is backward so far; and there is yet time for big and profitable gardens; especially beans, beets, carrots, cabbage, cauliflower, tomatoes, late potatoes, lettuce, sweet corn and squashes. Mr. Zikmund, garden expert at the Farm Bureau office is one of many who are glad to answer questions as to cultivate methods.

If any have no money for seed, there are good fellows in town who stand ready to advance it for them. But the beneficiaries must do, or furnish, all the w-o-r-k. And that's that!

TWELVE TO GRADUATE AT ST. JAMES

Sacred Service Sunday;
Secular Program Next
Wednesday Night

Graduation from St. James Catholic school will take place next Sunday, June 14, and Wednesday evening, June 17.

Graduates will receive their diplomas in the high mass at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and will renew their baptismal vows before this mass. The list of graduates is as follows:

Joseph Little, Erluin Friedrichs, Frank Incapreo, Stephen Mukahim, Arthur Balek, Donald Godeke, Mary Muran, Anna Mae Wagner, Albert Wetterer, Clarence Schaefer, James Sandberg, William Barnett.

The school closing and the rest of the graduation exercises will be held Wednesday evening, not Sunday night, as previously announced. The different classes will have numbers on this program. There will also be numbers by the school band.

John Annen and Geraldine Firmbach are the two "health achievement" champions of the school, who will receive recognition at the program Wednesday night.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Chief Skoog has accepted the challenge. He is ready to do his part to clean up Arlington Heights. It is now up to the people. In other words Mr. Skoog has the nerve to act. Have the church and law abiding people of this village as much nerve? It is now or never. If Arlington Heights is going to be permanently cleaned up, it will be done within the next month. If the good people of the town are going to "let George do it," and give no cooperation, the police might as well stop before they start.

How about it, Mr. Lions club, the local churches and other local organizations? Hiding behind, "it is none of our business," means that Arlington Heights will remain under the yoke of special interests.

REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER GRAVE HERE, TO MARK

D. A. R. to Conduct Notable Ceremony Tomorrow Afternoon

The unveiling of a boulder monument to the memory of Revolutionary war soldier, whose body was laid in Elk Grove cemetery on S. State road, north of Higgins road, near Arlington Heights, will take place tomorrow afternoon with ceremonies and speechmaking sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution. The ceremony was timed to fall next to Flag Day, which is Sunday.

The Rev. H. A. Kosack of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights, is among the speakers, and the Boy Scouts have been asked to take part.

Other speakers are to include Mrs. Burt T. Wheeler, retiring regent of the General Henry Dearborn chapter, D. A. R., who will preside; Mrs. Vinton E. Sisson, national vice chairman of the committee on national defense; and Miss Addie Rozene, a descendant of Aaron Miner, the soldier above whose grave the monument is set.

A new organization, the children of the Revolution is to be represented there; it is a junior group of the D. A. R.

The boulder will be of the same kind of granite as at Plymouth Rock. It bears the following inscription:

Aaron Miner
Born Woodbury, Conn., March 22, 1757. Died Elk Grove, Ill. March 29, 1849. He served in the Conn. Militia during the Revolutionary War.

Distinguished himself at the following places: Lake George, Lake Champlain, St. John's and Montreal.

erected by General Henry Dearborn
Chapter, D. A. R.

The body of Eli Skinner, another soldier in the Revolutionary war, was buried near by.

V. F. W. AUXILIARY VISITS THE NEEDY

Several members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary went last Friday evening to visit the "Z" family, which is the family consisting of one ex-service man, wife and eight children. The ladies took them flour, sugar, lard, butter, peanut butter, bread, rice, broad, milk, eggs, ham, potatoes, carrots, spinach, onions, string beans, cabbage, rhubarb, a cake and flowers.

The mother was ill; one girl needed shoes, two boys would soon need trousers. The shoes have been sent by the auxiliary, the trousers soon will be.

The ladies were glad to see that the children showed improvement in general condition.

1930 Tax Complaint Hearings Announced By Assessing Board

Complaint hearings on 1930 real estate assessments will be held next week, according to the following schedule in a legal notice by the county board of assessors:

Tuesday, June 16—Townships of Barrington, Berwyn, Bloom, Bremen, Calumet, Cicero, Elk Grove, Hanover, Palos, Proviso.

Wednesday, June 17—Lyons, Maine, New River, Northfield, Norwood Park, Oak Park, Orland, Palatine, Palos, Proviso.

Thursday, June 18—Rich, River Forest, Riverside, Schaumburg, Stickney, Thornton, Wheeling, Worth, Evanston, Niles.

Friday, June 19—Chicago towns.

CONCRETE PRODUCTS CO. INCORPORATES

The Arlington Concrete Products company have incorporated. Taege and Busse are still the owners, however.

Their specialty is the Haydite building blocks, coming in favor more and more as a building material that is economical, fireproof, and insulating, strong and permanent; and that lends itself especially to modern architectural design.

START RAIDS ON GAMBLING AND BOOKIES

Thoroughness of Clean-Up Put Up to People by Chief Skoog

COOPERATION WILL BRING RESULTS

If people of Arlington Heights really want a clean town, the police department is here to give them 100 per cent cooperation, but asks full cooperation in return; this is the word of Chief of Police Skoog of Arlington Heights through the Herald.

Last Sunday night, assisted by special police Mike Dobbins and Frank Gieseke, he raided two gambling places with the following results:

Entering the pool hall of Louis Voyga, about 17 West Campbell street in the rear of other buildings about 10:30 o'clock, they found 26 or 27 of the rising generation of the village around a crap game in which some 8 or 9 were playing. Voyga and his doorkeeper, John Zata were arrested, the inmates being taken as witnesses.

At the trial before Police Magistrate Herman H. Meyer, at the Village hall at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, Voyga attempted to throw the blame on his doorkeeper, Zata, but it developed that Voyga was the banker of the game.

Voyga was at first fined $200 and costs, but $150 of the fine was remitted, saying that the place will be closely watched from now on, and if gambling was found therein again, he will get the limit. Zata was fined $10 and costs.

Raid Bookie Again

The same night Chief Skoog and his aids raided the basement of the City Cigar Store in the Vail-Davis building, where "Tom" Thomas was found running a horse racing hand-book, after his place was raided by county police some time back, and heavy fines given. Thomas was ordered out of the place by Art Behrens, proprietor of the Cigar store, on demand of the chief.

The chief states definitely that three other persons are going to be asked to close up "bookies" or horse racing handbooks operated by them.

While some ten or twelve drunks were found on the streets of Arlington Heights last Saturday night, they were practically all from gay parties or private homes, the chief stated, where the basements hold contents similar to those alleged in certain commercial establishments.

The people in Arlington Heights can have the kind of a town they want, according to the Chief, who asks them to bring in their complaints. He promises his full cooperation, action and plenty of it, but complaints are necessary; the police are not allowed to act as a rule without complaints and definite evidence. It is therefore put up straight to the residents in the village.

Organizations Complain to Board
The Woman's Club, Boy Scout Committee and Parent-Teacher association have all sent resolutions recently to the Village board, complaining of conditions that are alleged to be enmeshing the youth, in Arlington Heights, neutralizing some of the good work these organizations are doing. They seem to have started something. More and permanent results will depend on what support is given by other organizations, churches, and the public generally, as to whether law enforcement or otherwise is to characterize "The City of Good Neighbors."

The closing of an alleged "Lunch Room" on Evergreen avenue, by the police power of the village; and the raiding recently of a "friendly game" in an apartment by bandits, are other straws which may indicate which way the wind is blowing.

Water Lilies Are In Bloom at Kost's

Eight water lilies gloriously blooming at once were to be seen this week in the lily pond in the rock garden of Mr. and Mrs. George Kost, 616 N. Highland avenue, Arlington Heights. Most are pink with yellow centers; one has a white center.

In the pool are some large gold fish, put out Easter Sunday, and thriving. The planting around the pool is also very interesting; in the background is a bush of "water lily peonies." The garden as a whole is interestingly and elaborately planted and very well kept.

CLEAN RESERVOIR UNDER VILLAGE HALL

The underground reservoir at the pumping station in the Village hall was cleaned of rust and silt last week, and walls scrubbed and rinsed before refilling, the work being done under the supervision of the water committee of the Village board. Trustees Godeke, Frankberg and Klehm.

Louis Bublitz and Steve Bauer are employed as watchmen at Park Ridge where paving or other machinery is being used.

The Ever Ready Club went to Woodstock last Friday for a picnic taking their hampers of good things to eat. They spread their dinner in the shade of the forest preserve. Later made their visit to the Orphanage, carrying gifts which were most acceptable, altogether had a joyous outing and came home tired and happy.

From the Herald we quote the following: Esther Agnes E. Rodine, June, died at her home 1922 South Union avenue, beloved daughter of Elizabeth and the late Otto Rodine, fond sister of Mrs. Maybelle Jasper, Raymond and Stanley Rodine. Funeral services at Bethel Lutheran church, Saturday, 2:30. Miss Rodine was the sister of our neighbor, Mrs. Alfred Jasper, and has been for some time an invalid. We are sure many friends in Arlington Heights sympathize with Mrs. Jasper in her sorrow.

Old residents tell us never were fruit trees more heavily laden with blossoms than this season. We hope it means fruit.

Miss Ellen Wilke went to Buckley, last Saturday to spend a two weeks' vacation from her employment at Fields store.

Mrs. Einer Ilke of South Evergreen avenue, entertained the "Social Five Hundred Club" in her home Thursday afternoon last week. They lived up to their name in enjoying a genial social time, featured with choice refreshments and lively games.

Mrs. George Prasinos of West Euclid is entertaining as guests in her home, an aunt and cousin from Chicago.

Miss Anne Allen entertained a group of her associates in a surprise party with Miss June Franke as guest of honor, Friday evening last week, in her home. A pleasant party, a pleasing surprise.

A new family from Glenview are coming to be citizens of Arlington Heights. They are moving into the old Metz place on Miller street, Northwest side.

Earl Schmitt entertained members of the Senior class to a house party in the family cottage on Fox river, Thursday, this week.

Dolores Rizzi, with eighteen others of her class at St. James church took her first communion Sunday morning's service. In the afternoon and evening about forty relatives and friends of the Rizzi family, were royally entertained in the home in joyful honoring of the daughters entrance into the sacred rites of the church. In their gladness, all participated making it an occasion long to be remembered. The guests were from Aurora, Chicago, Palos Park and Arlington Heights. There were many beautiful gifts, money value to the amount of twenty-five dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Friese with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Friese went to spend Decoration day with friends and relatives at Reedsburg and LaVelle, Wisconsin. The weather up there was fine while in Arlington Heights it was dark and rainy.

Donald Peeter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Peeter, spent the weekend with his grandfather, Mr. Frolich in Chicago.

Mr. Wm. Miller of Euclid street and Mr. Warren Parker are serving on the jury this week.

Mrs. Albert Moirs had as Sunday guests, her sister from the city.

Many friends deeply sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Zelsdorf in the loss of their little child.

John Hefferen, who has been sick for some time, was able to return to his work this week.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Gus Framberg has been shut in, too ill to go out to his business the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wohlgast from Michigan are expected at the close of school to spend two or three weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klehm and other friends here. Mr. Wohlgast is a professional coach for Potosky high school, and they will not be able

DREYER ELEC. FREE SHOWS GO OVER BIG

Hundreds Amused Waiting Arlington Theatre; Scream with Delight

The Dreyer Electric company of Arlington Heights, as we go to press, are putting over the biggest celebration—their second anniversary—that has been seen in the way of private enterprise in years.

Over 2600 free tickets to the big show in the Arlington Theatre, with the big comedy scream, "Stepping Out" as were taken on Tuesday night, waiting to gain admittance to the last two shows; many thoroughly enjoyed the music from Heine's band and the amplifiers outside, as well as the dancing on the big enclosure made on Miner street. This music included many of the old favorites, so it was the more enjoyed. Four shows were to be given Wednesday.

The main comedy was extremely clever as it was funny, and this was followed by a very entertaining educational picture, "Dynamic America," contrasting the conditions of early American pioneer and later home and industrial conditions with the marvelous electrical development now. Flashlight pictures were taken of the huge crowds about the theater. An educational director of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, in a few brief remarks, complimented the Dreyer Electric company as staging one of the finest examples of enterprising public spirit he had seen anywhere.

Gifts were awarded on free tickets. Tuesday night, Mrs. Sauer got the radio; Mrs. Martha Duenn the electric clock, and Mrs. Ben Van Gorder the electric iron.

The local men that did the work of putting on the celebration were Ed. Hitzeman, John Sutter, Elmer Rafoth, Henry Dreyer and August Dreyer.

The crowd Wednesday night was immense, and many enjoyed the old time dances. Lorraine Foley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Foley, won the 1st prize of a waifle iron; Dorothy Tegmeier, second, a percolator; the third prize, a flat iron, went to a lady from Elgin.

URGES GRADS TO SET THINGS UP IN ORDER

Helen Geffert played Elgar's "Land of Hope and Glory," and formed in line on the sides of the room as in marched the Seniors in their morning board caps and gowns, followed by the faculty. The principal, V. I. Brown, presided at the service. The Rev. H. A. Kossack led in the invocation and in a strong, clear voice read the entire chapter from which the text of Mr. Taylor's sermon was taken.

"Day is Dying in the West" was sung by the entire congregation. The Girls' Glee club sang two numbers, "Glorious Forever" by Rachmaninoff, and "Praise Ye the Father," by Gounod, under direction of Mr. Donald Costain. The benediction was pronounced by Mr. Taylor. The recessional was played by Miss Geffert as the Seniors and teachers, escorted by the Juniors, marched out, the audience remaining seated. In spite of a rainy evening, the audience was large.

Mr. Theophile Cuny, 513 S. Duntun avenue, has received word of the passing on of his brother, Florian Cuny, at San Antonio, Texas, Wednesday morning. This is the brother with whom the family had a remarkable reunion last October and November, after many years of separation. Mr. Cuny was 69 years of age.

South School Makes Exhibit; Gives Program

The South school, Arlington Heights, gave its annual program and exhibit Friday evening, June 5.

Numbers included a concert by the public school band; Gypsy song, girls, 6th-7th grades; Song of the Plains, boys, 6th, 7th grades; folk dances, (Jim Crow; Swedish dance), grades 1-2; Garland and Balloon rhythm, girls of grades 4-5; negro spiritual, "Go Down Moses"; The Slumber Boat, grades 6 and 7; "The Japanese Doll, girls 1 and 2; Indian dance, boys 1 and 2; Swedish and Danish dances, 3rd grade; wand drill, boys 4 and 5; the health achievement awards; When Rosalinda Sings, 6th and 7th grades.

Marion Kalisch and Myron Masny were two "health achievement" champions of the South school for the past year. Judge Wm. E. Koppin of the Board of Education, for the Lions club, presented them for their rooms, two onyx vases, and for themselves, each a badge similar to what the County schools give in their health contests.

The audience was then admitted to the exhibits in the various rooms. Department work under different teachers was mounted on the walls in grades 5, 6 and 7.

The art work, drawing, crayon, water color, and cut-out, was practically free hand throughout the school, and really admirable for children's work. Notebooks, nicely gotten up, and various projects worked out, displayed considerable individuality and ambition on the part of the teaching force, as well as of pupils that seemed to like their work.

Wednesday afternoon this week, the children of Mrs. Lyon's room (she was Miss Haffron), and their mothers, planned a surprise upon their teacher. Refreshments, including ice cream were provided, and a wedding gift presented to Mrs. Lyons, who is leaving this year.

The upper grades are attending the public school picnic today at Dam No. 2 on the Des Plaines river. Grades one to four are having their farewell parties at the school.

If you want to rent your house during the races, it will pay you to advertise the fact in the Cook County Herald and our seven papers.

Every fast train blows their vicious whistles six times while passing thru Arlington Heights. As all our street crossings are protected by gates, it is not necessary to blow their whistles while passing this station. The R. R. bells give plenty alarm.

STUDEBAKER'S Dictator

Eight engine gets an almost perfect score for "rounded" performance. Nothing in its price class equals The Dictator's even power flow.

Here indeed is "rounded" performance which is unique in a car of The Dictator's low price. Rounded not only figuratively, as shown by the Torsiographic record, but rounded as well in every function that makes motoring a pleasure and an economy.

There is no mystery in the source of The Dictator's smoothness. A sturdy, nine-bearing crankshaft, balanced not only statically but dynamically, is at the heart of it. What little vibration may survive, is further minimized by a crankshaft vibration damper of remarkable efficiency.

That is but the beginning. Combustion, or firing, is made steady and even by the use of a dual carburetor and gas passage, which assures equal fuel being fed to each cylinder, without "starving" the extreme end cylinders.

Full-power exhaust muffling, which con-

“Rounded” Performance

The Torsiograph, one of the most new infallible of automotive laboratory instruments, records accurately the vibration of any rotating shaft. The closer the record chart approaches a true circle, the more nearly perfect the balance of the crankshaft. At the left are shown the Torsiographic records of The Dictator Eight nine (9) bearing crankshaft and those of two other eight of double The Dictator's price. Notice the smooth roundness of The Dictator graph contrasted with the irregularity, or "humpiness" of the other two.

serves horsepower, and carburetor silencing—both introduced by Studebaker—combine to give The Dictator engine quiet to match its smoothness.

Finally, Free Wheeling brings to The Dictator its restful travel-ease. Clutch-pushing is almost forgotten. Gears shift noiselessly at any speed. Momentum is put to work, carrying you 10,000 miles for 8,000 miles of engine effort. Gasoline and oil consumption is cut 15% to 20%. Safety is enhanced. Enjoyment is multiplied.

STUDEBAKER—BUILDER OF CHAMPIONS

OBSERVER'S NOTES

There is one satisfaction
No business man can know:
When a farmer to his garden
Goes, his early corn to hoe.
He's thinking of the jolly treat
No one of him can rob;
When early sweet corn he can eat
Right smack off the cob!

Oh, I know they tell it doesn't pay to have a garden. Do you know what certain vegetables lose when gathered even overnight for the early market? Especially corn and peas. There are families in our careful marketmen, and they do give us fine vegetables, yet go into your garden, gather your peas and sweet corn for today's dinner, and then tell me if a garden pays.

It is a satisfaction to read that many suburban towns are apportioning their vacant lots, and the unemployed who need help.
This is fine. There are families from our town who have had help from the town all winter, who ought and maybe would benefit by such a move here.

Yet we do know some of these families who have gardens where they are living, yet do not work them. We know others who do not accept "help" gracefully, who like to get out in their gardens for the very joy of it, and who know a garden pays. Some day, if I'm spared, I'll write a book on "ways in which a garden pays." Though we all know Adam made a failure of it.

We do know all have been touched by the stress of financial troubles, and have had to practice many hitherto untried ways to cut down expenses. Then we read all the bargains our merchants are offering to help us in this commendable effort. And yet when one reads all these splendid offers, she must bear in mind Poor Richard's saying, "Never buy that which you do not need because it is cheap."

Many people are sacrificing their pet foibles and follies, that they may be the better help those in need.
One good woman I know has given up her bridge parties and many others are talking of the same self-denial. If you are interested to know, can tell you of one individual who was awfully tempted by those bargain green glass bridge-sets, but gave it up. Yes, gave it up mournfully, because never play bridge.

One never never knows what will happen next. Here comes the highway sweeping through the elms quiet spaces in the vicinity of Miner street and Douglas avenue. Great noisy processions of autos, buses and trucks, all the northwest highway traffic roaring by us night and day. No, they didn't like Macbeth "Murder Sleep," but did help us realize that "Satan came also."
If I were like Walt Whitman
Of wide Homeric frame,
I'd say when good folks gather
The devil also came.
But now they have another way,
Of saying where folks revel;
If they are waxing unco gay,
"Up pops the devil."

Don't blame me, I see that "Up pops" line in the theater ads, and that not a bad line either. For since the days of Job, hasn't it been true, wherever people, even good people, gather to carry on good works, the evil one without an invitation is sure to "pop" in among them?

Philosophy and psychology or some other ology must have combined to bring to my mind what I have just written about using our unused spaces for gardens, wrote about the North Shore people furnishing the land and the seed for many poor families to use, and then presto! Here comes word that the deed is done—good for our mayor, for Miss Jackson and whoever else had a mind to bring about this fine progressive work.

So often we have called attention to the beautiful trees about Arlington Heights, yet don't believe many have noticed that magnificent American larch or tamarack tree in front of Mr. Beardsley's beautiful well kept home. This tree drops its leaves or needles in winter, but the glory of their new birth in springtime is one of Easter's resurrection miracles. As first the leaves are like sunshine, now this fine tree is like an evergreen in winter time.

Odd, isn't it, the short time it takes to make us grow used to certain objects in our line of vision.
North of us in the open spaces for a year or more has stood an old rusty tin tank. The other day our neighbor, Mrs. Fritz, on the Ackley place, said, would you miss that old can if it should disappear? We gave an equivocal answer: Next the north space seemed strange. The can had gone, yet I miss it every time I look that way—something gone.

Yes, it is strange how little time it requires to grow used to even unsightly things, even when they have long been an eyesore. Knute Hanson couldn't get used to the glory of his Nobel prize; people pestered him for financial aid. Finally after long torture from begging letters, he donated liberally to the Children's Home, and to the Norwegian Authors association. Poor Sinclair Lewis had his face slapped and suffers torture from authors and others who claim he didn't win his prize, and wouldn't those men miss these noble prize eyesores, if all at once they were removed?
Ask them.

About those boys, one of whom shot a nurse, and endangered the lives of others with her. Two are to go to the juvenile court, too young to be punished for the others they are asking leniency because of their youth. Too young to be punished, yet old enough to be carrying guns. How about it, the parents are not responsible for the crime, must we go back to the manufacturer of the guns?

That reminds me of the subject taken up by some of our churchmen in conferences and assemblies in regard to our newspapers and their publication of crime and telling just how all horrible crimes are committed, and how the methods used by bandits and robbers, and in broad high headlines give all the details of horrible unspeakable crimes.

The consensus of opinions seemed to center on this: "We need a clean, live Christian newspaper, that shall keep people informed on the news of the world today. A truthful decent journal, fit to enter Christian homes, and to be read to or by our children, a newspaper that leaves out crime and disreputable stories. That does not carry shady and unstable advertising. A clean Christian newspaper with high ideals and moral standards."

Our right minded churchmen are on the right track, are willing to do their part if only some of our rich men will finance the venture. Finance it? "Aye, there's the rub."
Who is that raising his hand? Come on millionaire brothers, who will be first to volunteer? Never was a greater need; never was a worthier more needed Christian enterprise.
Scientists have their "Monitor," voted all over our land to be the one safe, clean newspaper. Let our other Christian friends hasten our Christian newspaper, to meet a crying need.

Our churchmen in assembly,
Discussing many things;
World happenings on land and sea,
Our presidents and kings.

When wise man made mention,
Of the fearful reign of crime;
Seeking for some prevention,
Of its wide spread in our time.

Of its spread each one agreeing,
On its broadcast far and wide;
That threatens the well being,
Of the homes where we abide.

Newspapers and the radio,
Autos, wild racing speed;
Are letting all our children know
Crime's last appalling deed.

Now all good people do agree,
A Journal, clean and true,

And well established, should be
To spread right things to view.

A paper that will bring the news
Good folks should know about.
Things just and right, all helpful views,
With crime and filth left out.

Yet we are all so funny,
For each high ideal plan,
We must have money, money,
Here's where the "block" began.

We have so many millionaires,
To them we make our plea;
Who is that one who bravely dares
To help financially?

Something so pleasant came to us today. I mean the finding out that our good friends, the Browns, have come back to our neighborhood. Came to live in the house corner of Fremont and Belmont; moved in Friday last week into the former home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Meyer. A pretty home, and if the Browns do as much to improve it as they did for their home on Euclid, it will be equally pleasant.

Crickets droning in the grass,
O, so dramatically,
June bugs pumping on the glass,
Very spitefully;
Roses, Iris, lovely things,
Such as June returning brings.

Sometimes the treat we would most enjoy is offered to us and because of crowding cares and weariness we are denied the joy of accepting a rare recreation. So it was not long since when our kind friends, Mr. and Mrs. Barrett offered two not young working women an auto ride to the city. Imagine, who we have no car, not able to accept this pleasure.

Be sure we don't forget such kindness and I want to say, it is just such kind friends that keep the sun shining over a not always smooth pathway. Out in the garden there is a tomato in bloom.
This Saturday morning, the Iris blooms are gorgeous in a sort of rain cloud glory. A golden yellow robust reaches long garlands of buds and blossoms, almost to the eaves. The later bridal wreaths are on the north of the porch like drifts of snow, waiting for the coming of the bride. The birds burst into a flood of song, all is a joy and gladness when nature welcomes June. What did the seer of Palms say, "And I, John, saw a new heaven and a new earth descending from above." Our miracle of June brings a new recreation.

Every year brings its June and its December. Every life has its joy and its sorrow. Its clouds and its sunshine. Brave are they who can accept these with fortitude.
Who have learned to endure, and to overcome, and have thought no cold entered into "The zone of calms."

If in bitter malice,
One may poison pour;
From life's golden chalice,
Time will peace restore.

As the woodland song birds,
Jubilant still sing;
And the little children
Buoyant greetings fling.

So with hope expectant
Go to meet each day,
You'll find crumbs of comfort
All along life's way.

All the world is friendly,
If you prove a friend;
Days that dawn in shadow,
Oft in splendor end.

Whether storm or sunshine,
Greet you each new day;
Let the light within you Brighten all your way.

If the way seems gloomy,
Keep a cheerful face;
Something fine will come to pass,
To brighten all your place.

Gloomy days, or dreary
Never last for long,

COMMITTEE PLANS
MID-YEAR COUNCIL MEETING AT CAMP

A mid-year meeting of the entire Northwest Suburban Council, will be held at Camp Oh-Ja-Ko-Ta near Lake Geneva, where Scouts from the Council will be encamped. A tentative date of June 27 has been set for this meeting. Arrangements will be made for a dinner to be served at the Camp at seven o'clock after which the meeting will be held. Invitations will be issued to all members of the Northwest Suburban Council.

Reports Encouraging
The trend of Council committee reports made at the last Executive Board meeting were very encouraging. Progress has been shown in practically every phase of Council activity. Mr. Pagels reported as chairman of the Camp committee and told of the recruiting for summer camp and other plans for Scout activities. Other chairmen reporting favorably were Rev. A. W. Barwick, Cub chairman; R. G. Jones, finance; Rev. O. F. Jordan, good reading; F. O. Proctor, troop organization. Mr. Proctor reported the membership of the Council to be twenty-four troops and 559 Scouts, an increase of five troops and 83 Scouts since the first of the year. Mr. A. E. Shibley, court of honor chairman, also reported a large increase in the number of awards made this year as compared to corresponding periods of 1930.

Eagle Scout Pilgrimage to Springfield
As a result of action taken at this meeting, invitations will be extended to all Eagle Scouts in the Northwest Suburban Council to attend the dedication of a rebuilt Lincoln's Tomb at Springfield, June 17. This program will be participated in by President Hoover and other outstanding men. The pilgrimage, however, will be made only by Eagle Scouts. In addition to participating in the ceremony at the Lincoln's Tomb the Scouts will have chances to visit other places of historical interest in and around Springfield.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our most sincere thanks to all who assisted during the illness and after the death of Joseph Edwards. We also thank each and every one for the beautiful floral offerings.
Mrs. Nettie Edwards and Sons
Roy and Forrest Davis

CARD OF THANKS
Our deeply heartfelt thanks are extended to the friends whose many expressions of kindly sympathy and helpfulness were given to us upon the occasion of the passing on of our dear daughter.
Mr. and Mrs. Wallace B. Beardsley.

Some one brave and cheery,
Will break into a song.

For one unkind whisper,
With a hurting smart;
Some one kind and friendly,
Will soothe the troubled heart.

Think of kindly faces,
Everywhere we meet;
Leaving fragrant traces,
Of rose gardens sweet.

For that one who harms you,
With a cutting word;
There are nine and ninety,
Your defense have stirred.

Thus each day departing,
Leaves a warmer glow;
And each new dawn starting,
Pearls of promise show.

Though the day dawns dreary,
And far the way it wends;
Hark! a bird sings cheery,
"Cheer up! Here comes your friends!"

Elmore Crisler Haynes.

Ruth Beardsley
Enters Life Beyond

The hearts and home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace B. Beardsley were made glad when on the 23rd of September, 1900, a bright little baby girl was born to be a sister to Jessie and a joy to her parents, Ruth, was born and spent her life in Arlington Heights, under the blue skies she lived amid the wild flowers and the birds her companions.
She was graduated from the high school and later from Oberlin college. Always studious, always bright and helpful. She was a favorite with her teachers and classmates at home. She won the honors of her class when she was graduated.

Nine years ago through the entrance into her system of an insidious poison at some earlier date, the memory and keen intellect of this beloved daughter, gradually passed into a shadow. Of these years, it were sacrilege to speak. All that parents' love and medical skill could do, was of no avail.
In her beautiful childhood home, tenderly and lovingly attended by her own, Ruth Beardsley gradually awakened to her real self, passed into full awakening in that better world beyond, Tuesday night at eleven o'clock, June 2, 1931.

Friday afternoon at two o'clock the funeral was held, the Rev. H. A.
Kossack conducting the service with selections from the Bible comforting passages and a prayer.
Mrs. Crawford, formerly a teacher in the school here, while Ruth was in the grades, gave a character sketch of her school days as she knew her. Mr. Frank Bergens, whose well trained pleasing voice is so well known, sang two favorite gospel songs. The closing hymn,
"Shall We Gather At the River," Mrs. W. J. Hausman read some favorite poems Ruth had delighted in, and others chosen by herself. Of these were "The Skylark" and "The Cloud" by Shelley; Bryant's
"Thanatopsis" and "The Stormy Petrel" and Lytton's poem on "Death." Preceding these, Mrs.
Hausman read a pretty little poem on "The Robin in a Tree" written by Ruth in her fourth grade school days.

Buried in masses of the flowers
she loved, surrounded by sympathizing neighbors and loving friends, the chrysalis, the form from which dear Ruth had flown to the life of perfect growth beyond sorrow and suffering, was borne to its final resting place, Graceland cemetery.

The flowers were taken in charge by the former classmates of Ruth in school with others of her associates.
The pall bearers were her cousins, Kenneth and Philip Lines, Robert Melzer, Karl Fehlman, Harold Peter and Irving Tesch. The flower bearers were Clara Weise, Elsie Peter, Clara Niemeyer, Lillian Klein, Margaret Kehe, and Thane Johnson. Deepest sympathy from this community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Beardsley and all who loved dear Ruth. And yet, though hearts may ache, we know those who loved and cared for their dear one most tenderly rejoice at her release from suffering into the fullness of new life.

IN MEMORIAM

She was so thoughtful and so kind,
So bright in all those happy years;
Well poised each tangle to unwind,
Still free from doubt or foolish fears.

Nature to her was a charmed book,
Its bird songs she interpreted;
Across the meadow space to look,
For her a fairy pathway led.

The trees, the flowers, all beautiful things,
Gave to her studious mind delight;
She watched the growers' first blossomings.

Reading their mysteries aright.
Alas! Too soon the shadow fell,
Folding her as a curtain in;
That too has passed, all now is well.

Where light and joy for her begin.

In that fair land, so tenderly,
God will restore in very truth;
The years veiled in a mystery,
Now hers in all the joy of youth.

Look up dear friend, in vision see,
Your Ruth, as in those happy days,
She ran so lithely and so free,
Through all spring's early flower ways.

She waves to you a beckoning hand
While you still trusting haste along
To join her in that other land, Where all is peace and joy and song.

A Tribute from a Friend.

FINAL SPECIAL ASSESSMENT
NOTICE

In the matter of the petition of the Village of Arlington Heights for the special assessment of the cost of constructing connected system of street pavement in NORTH MITCHELL AVENUE and other streets and avenues in said Village, as provided in and by Arlington Heights Special Assessment No.
109, in the County Court of Cook County.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested that the Board of Local Improvements of said Village has heretofore filed in said Court in said cause a certificate showing the cost of the work, the amount reserved for interest, and also that the improvement has been constructed in substantial conformity with the requirements of the original ordinance therefor.

The hearing to consider and determine whether or not the facts as stated in said certificate are true, will be held in said Court on the 23rd day of June, A. D. 1931, at the hour of ten o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as the business of the court will permit.

All persons desiring may file objections in said Court on or before the time set for such hearing and may appear on the hearing and make their defense.

Dated, Arlington Heights, Illinois, June 5, 1931.

Warren Cops Baseball
Crown; Top Conference

The baseball season in the Northwest conference was brought to a close last week with Warren announcing its third major championship of the season. Behind the stellar pitching of Gehrke Coach Kellon's team failed to lose a game to a conference school, the only blot on its escutcheon being a game forfeited to Leyden when unable to appear at Leyden for a return game.

Watson's young crew from Leyden came in second in the struggle with Wauconda; and Ela tied, altho Ela dropped Wauconda twice during the season. Antioch brought up the field with only two wins to its credit.

Final standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Warren	7	1	.875
Leyden	5	3	.625
Ela	4	4	.500
Wauconda	4	4	.500
Antioch	2	6	.250

Safety Glass

Ford cars are now equipped with safety glass in all doors and windows at a small extra charge

$15 for the Coupe, De Luxe Coupe, Sport Coupe or Convertible Cabriolet $20 for the Tudor Sedan, Standard Sedan, De Luxe Sedan, Town Sedan or Victoria

THE Triplex safety glass windshield has always been an outstanding feature of the Model A Ford. By reducing the dangers of flying glass, it has saved many lives and prevented countless injuries in automobile collisions.

Now comes a further assurance of safety to every Ford owner... polished plate safety glass in ALL DOORS AND WINDOWS at slight additional cost.

The charge for this extra protection is unusually low because of large production and the development of new methods of manufacture. Simply tell the dealer when you buy the Ford that you want "safety plate glass in all doors and windows" and the car will be factory-equipped for you in that manner.

Today, as before, the safety glass windshield is furnished as standard equipment on all Ford cars without extra charge.

FORD OWNERS This announcement refers only to NEW CARS. Ford dealers are not in a position to install safety glass in the windows of your present Ford at the above prices.

Presents Flag To Woman's Club Annual Banquet

The gala day for the season, the Annual picnic was held on the beautiful lawn of the old Draper home "Hillside Farm" last Wednesday, June 3.

The tables were spread on the lawn, prettily arranged and decorated. The president, with her official board, were placed at a table in the pavilion. The elderly guests had comfortably placed tables. The porch was turned into a music room where the club chorus and accompanists had their place. The day was auspicious. The attendance well in numbers. The refreshments were of the best and well served by the committee assisted by their helpers.

The business to be taken up was the adoption of a budget presented by "the official board" and also to decide on a meeting place for the coming year.

The program was then presented as follows: The chorus, a most pleasing feature gave several numbers. Mrs. Crystal Billings Ellis, a dramatic reader, introduced by Mrs. Nieman, in charge of the program, gave several delightful mirth provoking numbers in a style beyond description. "The Nickels Worth of Music" in which she put on the guise of an Italian street player, and "Mrs. O'Brien at the Clinic" and a "Puzzled Frenchman." In each of these she assumed the well recognized dress and language of the parts she gave in a wonderful, delightful manner. O, the joyous bursts of laughter and applause that rang through those beautiful trees, echoed by the equally telling and appreciative screams of Peter, the Peacock, hidden by the branches who came daintily near to enjoy the treat and in his own way of expressing approval.

After the laughter and storms of sincere appreciation of Mrs. Ellis' reading had died away, M. S. C. P. Draper gave expression to her long desire and wish for a club flag and finally she herself had procured a flag which her daughter, Lilian

Draper Klehm, came forward holding an especially beautiful flag which she, after giving a brief history of our Nation's banner, presented to the president, Mrs. Whitmore, on behalf of the club, in a few well chosen words, gracefully accepted the beautiful gift. The club chorus closed the program, an exceptionally happy one by singing "Illinois" in which the whole company joined.

An unexpected, picturesque and delightful feature, not down in the lists, burst upon the company while seated to enjoy the choice luncheon, when our irrepressible, versatile Swiss friend, Mrs. Hofstetter, came upon the lawn in the costume of a Swiss shepherdess, with her crook leading Mrs. Lilian Klehm's pet lamb, singing a charming Swiss song and closing with a real tyrolean yodel, to which the pretty lamb responded with a "baa, baa." It was all so impulsively and prettily done, there are no words to describe the delightful appreciation and enthusiastic applause.

The gala day was a happy success is the verdict of all who participated in its pleasing program and the old never worn out hospitality of the dwellers at Hillside Farm.

Mr. Joseph Edwards of Arlington Heights Passed Away Sunday

Mr. Joseph Edwards, 1215 N. State road, Arlington Heights, passed away Sunday morning at 10:52 o'clock. Mr. Edwards, who was 61 years of age, has lived in Arlington Heights five years, having come from Ellingham county, Ill. His death occurred after five months of suffering.

He was well known to the many Ellingham county people here, and to the employees of the Creamery Package Mfg. Co., with whom he was employed.

Mr. Edwards has two sons and a daughter living in East St. Louis, Ill., besides two sons and a daughter that passed on before. He leaves at home his wife, Mrs. Nettie Edwards, and a step son, Mr. Forrest Davis; there are also one other step son, Roy Davis, married, in Arlington Heights, and a step daughter in Granite City, Ill.

The funeral was held at the Christian church in Arcola, Ill., Wednesday, Arcola being his birthplace, the pastor of the church which he joined in Mason, Ill., about six years ago, the Rev. John Davis, officiating.

Karstens and Eipper of Arlington Heights had charge of the funeral arrangements at both places.

NOTICE OF AWARD

NOTICE is hereby given that the Board of Local Improvements of the Village of Arlington Heights, Illinois, at a meeting held on the 8th day of June, A. D. 1931, did award the contract for the laying and constructing of a connected system of street pavement in DUNTON AVENUE and other streets and avenues in said Village, as contemplated in and by the ordinance and proceedings in Arlington Heights Special Assessment No. 120, to MILBURN BROS., a corporation, of Rockford, Illinois, on their proposal for the sum of $40,887.00.

Dated, Arlington Heights, Illinois, June 12, 1931.

J. D. FLENTIE,
President of the Board of Local Improvements. (6-12)

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God the Only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 7.

The Golden Text was, "Let all the earth fear the Lord: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him. For he spake, and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast" (Psalm 33:8, 9).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon, was the following from the Bible: "To whom then will ye liken me, or shall I be equal? saith the Holy One. Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, that bringeth out their host by number; he calleth them all by names by the greatness of his might, for that he is strong in power; not one faileth" (Isaiah 40:25, 26).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mind is not the author of matter, and the creator of ideas is not the creator of illusions. Either there is no omnipotence, or omnipotence is the only power. God is the infinite, and infinity never began, will never end, and includes nothing unlike God" (p. 249).

"Women of All Nations" at United Artists Theatre

Those two cock-eyed marines, Flagg and Qirt, continue to convulse United Artists patrons with their hilarious antics in "Women of All Nations."

In the person of Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe these boys together with their Swede buddy, El Brendel, have apparently picked up in their fun-making where the "Cock-eyed World" left off for this picture is undoubtedly the most uproarious merrymaking to ever leave the Fox studios.

Also prominent in the cast is Greta Nissen, the Nordic beauty, who is making a comeback in films, and whose great work in this picture assures her many great parts in the future.

Maryland Woman Happy Now—Loses 55 Lbs.

Edith J. Marriott of Baltimore, Md. writes: "Last winter I weighed 200 lbs., and very much ashamed, I bought a bottle of Kruschen Salts which gave such wonderful results I bought more. After 4 bottles I weigh 145 lbs. and all my friends say, 'How slender you've gotten—how did you do it?' I say only 4 words—thanks to Kruschen Salts."

A generous bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents at any drug store in America. Take one half teaspoon in glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—that will help Kruschen take off your fat.

Take Kruschen every morning—it's the little daily dose that does it—if not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

John G. Martens

Mr. John G. Martens Jr., 110 S. Highland Ave., Arlington Heights, who passed away at the Lake View hospital in Melrose Park, Thursday, June 4, was born in Elk Grove, Illinois, June 11, 1892, the son of John and Anna Martens. He was educated in the public schools of Arlington Heights. For 23 years he has been in the employ of the Bell Telephone Company. He was married April 21, 1921, to Miss Ellen Diesness, and they have one daughter, Jean.

Mr. Martens was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights; was past master of Palatine Masonic lodge; a member of Arlington Heights lodge No. 1162, and of Palatine chapter of the Eastern Star, No. 585.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian church and at the grave; by the church and by the Arlington Heights Masonic lodge. The Rev. H. A. Kossack officiated for the church. A Masonic quartet sang. The Masons held part of their service at the church, due to the rain, and part at the grave in the Town of Elk Grove cemetery. Funeral arrangements by Lauterburg & Oehler.

Mr. Martens leaves his wife, mother, and daughter in Arlington Heights, a brother, Mr. Henry Martens in Arlington Heights and a brother, Edward Martens of Chicago.

PRESBYTERIANS CALL 'FORWARD MARCH' BIG PROGRAM IS OUTLINED

Arlington Heights Delegate Brings Word of Positive, Advanced Positions of Church; Urge United Christian Activities

START "RENEWAL OF FAITH" CRUSADE

Mr. Francis K. Wilton, 211 North State road, an elder of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights, who has been in attendance at the Presbyterian General Assembly in Pittsburgh, Pa., reports that some of its important business was as follows:

Spiritual Revival Keynote
Spiritual emphasis was the supreme issue of the Assembly, and the great national annual congress representing 2,000,000 communicant members sounded as the keynote for the coming year the spiritual quickening of the entire church. The dominating spirit of the business of the Assembly was toward a great renewal of faith and great revival of Christian work throughout the United States and in the countries where Presbyterian missions are conducted.

Church Takes Advanced Ground
The Assembly upheld President Hoover in his policy of law observance. It made a strong pronouncement for universal peace, for the entrance of the United States into the World Court, for liberty of conscience, and for obtaining for Presbyterian students in colleges the same exemption from compulsory military training that is granted to members of the Society of Friends, the Assembly considering that a Presbyterian conscience is just as good as a Quaker conscience.

Presbyterians for Prohibition
Temperance and prohibition, Sabbath observance and other fundamentals of old-fashioned American Christianity, were held up as essentials in combating the evils of the times. Strong pronouncements were made against the liquor traffic, against the commercialization of the Sabbath, by professional sports and motion picture houses, and against intrusion of objectionable amusements into church buildings. The sanctity of marriage, the family and the home was emphasized and greater restrictions against the divorce evil were advocated.

Organize for Social, Industrial, Brotherhood
In the adoption of a special report on social and industrial relations, the General Assembly prepared for larger activities for the remedy of unemployment and kindred ills through a permanent organization on social and industrial relationships and for the extension of brotherhood and fraternalism.

Urge Inter-Church Cooperation
Better interracial relations were advocated, lynching and mob violence were condemned, and cooperation and union among denominations were advanced.

A great Christian usefulness of the entire man-power of the church was planned through more rigid requirements for an educated ministry and more intelligent practical evangelism through a system of higher cultivation in church work among the ruling elders.

The Assembly's celebration of the Centennial of its Foreign Missions work led to affirmation of a great forward program throughout the world with a renewal of missionary preaching in every pulpit. The Assembly joined other ecclesiastical courts in urging upon President Hoover a national day of prayer and humiliation as a part of the inter-denominational crusade for Christianizing all nations.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilton, while in Pittsburgh lived at the Pittsburgher hotel. The stay in Pittsburgh from May 28 to June 3 was very beneficial to Mrs. Wilton, who enjoyed the week's vacation.

What To Do When Lost in Woods; Girl Scouts Know

The would-be woodsman with little caution and less craft is always apt to find himself some summer sunset standing with divided feet at a spot where the trails fork and there is nothing familiar on the earth about him.

Lost! It's incredible when it happens for the first time, and the amateur may be pardoned if a primitive fear grips him at the prospect of spending a night in a strange wood. He will be lucky if he does not lose his nerve as well as his supper and suffer a seeming eternity of the agony called panic.

The observant amateur will find, after the first shock is over, that subconsciously his senses have blazed a return trail by means of an unusual tree, a fragrant shrub, a stone pile, a patch of moist earth. The expert, of course, on starting will have taken his bearings and will be playing in hard luck if he lacks some compass to steer him home. By day there will be the sky, the sun shadows and perhaps a watch face or a knife blade to supply him all the sign-posts he needs. By night there will be the north star, if there's no storm. By both there will be a wind perhaps of known direction. But what is the man to do who lacks craft and compass and who has never trained his eye, ear or nose?

He must take a leaf from the Girl Scout book of lore, the first dictum of which is: The woods are as safe by night as by day for those who keep their heads cool and their feet quiet.

When lost, says the Girl Scout book, sit down, look and listen, keep your heart quiet and your mind calm.

If the landscape reveals nothing familiar, mount a hill if one is handy. From a height you may be able to spot a house, a church or camp or something else sizeable and reassuring.

If there is no hill, try shouting at regular intervals.

If no one hears, light a fire by friction, if you have no match. It should preferably be the kind of fire that is recognized only by the smoke it makes. Three fires at a distance of twenty-five feet apart are the SOS of the adept woodsman.

If you must move, blaze a trail, so that you can return to the starting point. It is better to remain still. Then you will not spain your ankle in a rabbit hole, stumble over prone logs or sink in a marsh.

Above all things, do not be afraid. Fear does more harm to the lost than any enemy.

Blunders Made by Genius
Although Sir William Herschel was such a remarkable astronomer, he made some curious blunders. He once excited all scientific Europe by declaring that he had discovered active volcanoes on the moon. What he had really seen was reflected light from the earth. He also had an amazing theory that the sun was a cool body surrounded by luminous clouds beneath which was a world of luxurious vegetation and gorgeous scenery.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE Complete Report Of Health Contest

In the Health Contest of Division Two County schools at the Schiller Park forest preserve May 26, over seventy contestants from schools all over Wheeling and Elk Grove townships, and some parts of Maine also Norwood Park competed in the division finals.

Seven of these contestants were recalled for re-examination in the final elimination. Four boys and three girls.

Of the four boys recalled, three were from Arlington Heights, Wilbert Rateike, Lutheran school, a 100 per center, scored championship of the Arlington Heights boys and won first place in the county division of boys.

Francis Mertes, St. James Catholic school, stood second; Howard Kalisch, public school and a boy from another district scored a trifling lower.

Of the three girls in the finals, one was from Arlington Heights, Charmion Sieburg, St. James Catholic school.

It remained for Charmion to be the feminine booster for Arlington because Marcia Ruth Martens, public school, and Margaret De Puy, Lutheran school, scored too low to enter into the elimination finals and were not recalled.

Charmion Sieburg was recalled with Lorraine Boker of Schiller Park and a girl from another district. These three 100 per cent contestants stood tie, and in order to eliminate, it was decided to count fillings in the teeth against them, since no defects could be found. Lorraine Boker had no fillings, thereby taking first place. Charmion had one filling, scoring second; and Virginia Gieseke had several fillings and also wore glasses, which placed her lower. Charmion Sieburg stands girl champion of Arlington Heights, and second among the girls in the county division.

Arlington Heights is to be congratulated in numbering four contestants among the 7 final contestants in the Division. What a boost! Good old Arlington! We entered six contestants, of whom four entered the final elimination with a score of 99-100 per cent.

St. James school contributed two contestants, 99 plus to 100 per cent; Public school, one; Lutheran school, one; boys' division champion. This record is authentic and may be verified at will.

The examining physician, Dr. Dougherty, is impartial, showing no favoritism—strictly "health" and not a "popularity" contest. The final examination is very rigid, and it behooves all schools to exercise precision in selecting their very best specimens; for in such competition they certainly do "pick the flaws."

This health contest is in no way related to any local "health achievement living" and "correction of defect" contests, and should not be confused with same.

A 100 per cent "corrected defect" contestant is not the equivalent of a 100 per cent "health" contestant.

How to Become a Saint
Why were the saints saints? Because they were cheerful when it was difficult to be cheerful, and patient when it was difficult to be patient; and because they pushed on when they wanted to stand still, and kept silent when they wanted to talk; and were agreeable when they wanted to be disagreeable. That was all. It was quite simple, and always will be.—Exchange.

South Side Breezes

The community feels keenly the passing of Mr. John Martens and wishes to express sympathy to Mrs. Martens.

Sympathy is also extended to Mrs. Fred Ehret whose mother passed away last week.

Mrs. Frances Palmer and granddaughter, Dorothy of Harvard, are spending the week with George Palmer and family.

Mrs. Jansen, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Richards, left Monday for Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nehlsen of Chicago, visited the Pecchias, Sunday.

Frank Sauer was very much surprised Sunday afternoon when twenty-five relatives came to remind him that another year had rolled around. How many candles were on the cake, we didn't hear. Of course, every one had a good time with lots to eat.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Meyer, So. Walnut, are the proud parents of a seven pound baby boy, born Tuesday morning. Congratulations.

The Ever Ready club met Wednesday with Mrs. Otto Hermann, So. Evergreen.

Several ladies from the south side accompanied the Everready club on an outing to Wauconda where they visited the orphanage and picnicked.

Howard Sayers was glad he studied hard and got on the honor roll and didn't have to take any exams for he used his vacation going to Urbana with Mr. Tascher, the assistant Farm Adviser.

Tuesday night, Mrs. Sauer was lucky at "Stepping Out." Mrs. Sauer won the radio. She was glad that she stepped out.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dobbins, and son, Harold, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dobbins visited at Champaign, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. John Farrell of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, has come to spend the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Thurman Dodge, So. Mitchell avenue.

Stephen Lipinski is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Victor Pecchia. Undoubtedly his new grandson, Jimmy, is receiving some attention.

Mr. Richards enjoyed a visit from his brother of Cleveland over the week-end.

Harriet Barrett is home from Illinois University.

Mrs. Brockmeyer and Mrs. Richards were at Washington Park, Monday afternoon.

BOOSTERS TO PLAY COLORED BOYS SUN.

The Boosters ball team of Arlington Heights will play Sunday afternoon at the east side ball field, with the Buettner All Stars of Chicago, a team of colored boys that have played leading semi-pro teams in Chicago and have traveled considerably in Wisconsin. This is the first time they have appeared in Arlington Heights.

The Boosters will play another twilight game at Wells Park in Chicago tonight, with the Zepp Motors team. The game with the same team at the same place last Friday, resulted in a tie, 4 to 4, and the game cut short on account of darkness.

The heralded and much anticipated game with the Park Ridge Pickwicks last Sunday, did not come off, due to a very rainy day.

Official Publication

An Ordinance Amending Chapter 27, entitled "Railroads" of the Municipal Code of Arlington Heights of 1929, by adding to said Chapter a section, to be known as Section 984 1/2, of said Chapter of said Ordinance and regulating the blowing of locomotive whistles within the village limits of the Village of Arlington Heights.

BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights, County of Cook and State of Illinois:

SECTION 1. That Chapter 27 entitled "Railroads" of the Municipal Code of Arlington Heights of 1929, passed March 18, 1929, be amended by adding to said Chapter 27 a further section, to be known as Section 984 1/2, and which section shall be read as follows:

SECTION 984 1/2. SOUNDING OF WHISTLES. On approaching the street crossing known as State Road crossing, or Arlington Heights Road crossing, being the second highway crossing east of the station of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company in said Village of Arlington Heights, west bound trains may sound the regulation crossing whistles of two blasts, each of one second's duration, and two blasts, each of one-half second's duration, for said crossing; on a crossing the Euclid Street crossing in the westerly portion of said village, and on approaching the Vail Avenue crossing, which is the second highway crossing west of said station, east bound trains may sound their regulation crossing whistle for each of said crossings, consisting of the aforesaid number of blasts and duration thereof. Except as hereinbefore provided, no railroad shall cause or allow the whistle of any locomotive engine to be sounded or blown within the limits of said village, except in the event of emergencies or in the event of immediate danger to persons or property.

SECTION 2. Any railroad company or railroad corporation which shall, by itself, its agents or employees, violate or fail to observe any of the provisions of Section 984 1/2 of Chapter 27 of said Municipal Code of Arlington Heights of 1929, hereby added to said Chapter by way of amendment, or any agent or employee of any railroad company or railroad corporation, or any person who shall violate or fail to observe the same, shall for each violation or failure to observe the same be fined a sum not less than TEN DOLLARS ($10.00) nor exceeding TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS ($200.00).

SECTION 3. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication, and shall be known as Ordinance No. ....

Passed this 8th day of June, A. D. 1931.

H. G. PETER, Village Clerk.

Approved this 8th day of June, A. D. 1931.

PICK COUNTY CHAMPIONS IN HEALTH

Four Get 100 Per Cent Ratings; Two Eighth Graders the Titles

Cook County's Health Achievement champions were picked Saturday at the office of the County Superintendent of Schools, Edward J. Tobin, out of some 100,000 pupils.

Evelyn Jungles, 13, of the eighth grade of Sag School, District 112, Lemont, got the health title for the girls. Billy Fink, 13, of Ideal school, Dist. 105, LaGrange, won it for the boys.

The final decision was by lot, drawing their names out of a hat, for the simple reason that Mary Harop, 12, of Thornton, and Melburn Smith, 12, of Flossmoor, after repeated examinations by the judges, were found to be just as perfect as the other two. As somebody had to get the medals, they finally drew from the hat. Those that lost from the drawing have the satisfaction of knowing that they made the grade; of practically first place; and as they have another year before they graduate, they can try again next year with prospects of success. The entire four were given 100 per cent ratings. There were fourteen contestants in the finals, including Wilbert Rateike of the Lutheran school of Arlington Heights.

The judges were: Dr. Herman N. Bundeson, health commissioner of Chicago, Dr. L. W. Morrey, Dr. Elizabeth Koppeneal, and Dr. W. A. Evans, of the Chicago Tribune.

FAIRVIEW SCHOOL
The Fairview school pupils gave a pleasing program Wednesday afternoon, a combination of May Day and closing exercises, which made a fitting close to a successful year.

Mr. J. Kay White, principal of the Schiller Park school, gave a brief and interesting talk and expressed his pride in the excellent showing made by the pupils. The intricate flag drill was most effective. The safety play also won much appreciation. Miss Perry, the teacher, is doing fine work and her 33 pupils gave a splendid program.

Lincoln School, Schiller Park, Makes Progress

Commencement exercises of Lincoln school, took place at the Assembly hall, Schiller Park, Wednesday evening, June 3, and afforded great enjoyment to a throng of over 500 people.

This was a red letter event which stood out in gold in the long chain—endless to the child mind of sadder grey school days. It was the day they had looked forward to for years, and therefore a memorable occasion. 42 bright pupils graduated and received their diplomas.

An interesting program was presented. The newly organized school orchestra made their first public appearance and made a favorable impression in their number "The Class March."

Mr. Baker, principal of the Leyden High school, gave a short address of welcome. Several songs by the 6th and 7th grades choral, one to be commended and were admirably rendered.

Mr. Robert E. Downs, director of education gave an interesting and inspiring talk, and won the quiet attention of the pupils and audience. The class song by the 8th grades evoked delighted applause.

Mrs. Margaret Johnson, president of the Board of Education presented diplomas to the 42 pupils who graduated. Clyde Sax was awarded a gold pin as a mark of honor for six years steady attendance. Forty children were awarded certificates for perfect attendance for the year.

Several special new activities and innovations were introduced during the past year. Attention has been given to athletics, physical training and basketball, coached by Mr. J. Kay White. Excellent work in training the boys has been accomplished. A regular basketball team was organized of nearly forty boys. They started association games and won about 85 per cent of the games they played and took third places in the tournament. A large number of new basketballs are in use, also playground balls, bats, masks and gloves. Teams have also been organized for out-door activities. The American Legion bought $160 of playground equipment which were greatly needed, and much more could still be used.

The giving of the intelligence test, also achievement test, was another noteworthy innovation and gave the teachers an idea of what changes should be made for the different grades. A record system has been established whereby records are kept and filed. A class exhibit was held in every room which drew a crowd of 500 people besides the pupils. Last fall an evening program was given for the purpose of demonstrating to the parents the actual work that goes on daily throughout the year by the pupils.

The board of education are to be congratulated in their foresight in anticipating the needs of the school and in trying to promote an up-to-date system. They have provided a lot of needed office equipment, also mimeograph and office files, two sets of maps and also two globes. The teachers had candy sales and entertainments last season, and purchased books and pictures for the various rooms with the money.

The eighth grade gave a play entitled "Jayville Junction," which was most successful. The money taken in was used for graduation purposes and buying class pictures. The lower grades also gave an entertainment and finally the graduation exercises took place.

ORCHARD PLACE SCHOOL DISTRICT 66
Wednesday, June 3, 1931, was the closing day for Orchard Place school.

At 9 o'clock the pupils received their promotion cards. The next few minutes were taken up with awarding of prizes for champions of various activities.

Bernice Mehlopp of the third grade received an award for punctuality. She had not been absent nor tardy all year. Even during the dreadful snow storm, Bernice, accompanied by her father, waded through to school.

Champions in arithmetic in the various grades who received distinction were Lorraine Butenschoen, 2nd grade; Bernice Mehlopp, 3rd grade; Elsie Boesche, 4th grade; and Alvera Mehlopp, 5th grade.

The school champion in spelling was Alvera Mehlopp. Lorraine Butenschoen received an award for having most gummed seals on the Primary and Intermediate spelling chart. Richard Wilke had read the most books. Alvera Mehlopp's story No. 6, "The Beaver," was considered the prize winning story by two judges from a near-by high school.

Hold Farewell to Mrs. Raven
At 11 a. m. the children held a picnic dinner in the yard as a farewell to Mrs. Raven, who is leaving the service of Dist. 66. They had everything fine to eat including a weenie roast. The dinner ended with ice cream.

Mrs. Raven and all the children heartily thank Mr. Frank Mehlopp, clerk of the board, for his wonderful support and help during the past year; also Mr. Fred Reetz, janitor, for his kindly interest and faithfulness. Everyone feels they have been the two pillars of our school, since they never missed a meeting or entertainment and were always on deck to cooperate with the district.

"A great majority of the parents have expressed their disappointment and dissatisfaction that Mrs. Raven was not rehired as teacher. The parents feel that in any school the directors should represent the wish of the patrons. In this particular case the wishes of the majority were not considered," writes our correspondent.

Mrs. Raven leaves behind a host of friends, among a great many parents and practically all the school children who extend her their best wishes for her future success.

An Electric Milk Cooler Pays the Farmer Profits

Extra profits for the dairy are practically assured when you cool milk electrically. When milk is stored in an electric cooler bacteria growth is quickly checked. It can be safely kept until delivered without deterioration—and milk that is low in bacteria count and high in quality brings more money on the market.

Besides bringing extra profits, an electric milk cooler saves time and labor for the farmer. There are practical tanks for dairies of all sizes. You can get full information about cooling milk this modern way by writing or phoning your nearest Public Service Store. Without obligating you in any way, one of our men specially assigned to farm electrification will call on you.

Hot Water for the Dairy

It's easy to have all the hot water you need for sterilizing dairy equipment with an Electric Water Heater. You fill this handy tank and the water is safely heated to the desired temperature. Your Public Service representative will be glad to tell you all about these heaters.

COOPERATION JUBILEE AT LA GRANGE

Cook County Farm Bureau Bureau Sponsors Big Debate June 15

A jubilee of big dimensions by Cook County Farm Bureau members, families and friends, will start at 8:15 sharp next Monday evening in the big hall of LaGrange Masonic temple. This hall seats 700, and tickets are being given out in advance to members by the Farm Bureau office and township directors, so the most interested persons will surely get seats.

The Glenwood Training school band will live the jubilee, the star attractions to include a "second Lincoln-Douglas debate" between Larry Williams, manager of the Country Life Insurance company, and Donald Kirkpatrick, legal counsel of the Illinois Agricultural association. The subject of the debate will be: "Resolved, That the Illinois Farmer is not ready for Cooperative Marketing."

This will be the gala night of the year for the cooperative organizations of Cook county. Officers and directors of the Illinois Agricultural association are planning to be there; also officials of the American Farm Bureau federation. Mr. Ed. O'Neal, president of the national federation, has been invited to be present.

Since Cook county was second in the amount of cooperative life insurance sold in the state during April, thanks to Mr. Carnecross and his able assistants, this honor is being given to Cook county of a visit here of the state officials of the organization, and the presentation of the big debate, which is certain to be a hot one, full of sharp thrusts, mighty sledge hammer blows of argument, and keen humor. If anyone likes to hear a hot argument, especially on a subject he is full of himself, or thinks he ought to be, Monday night will give that opportunity. A delegation of about 25 are coming down from McHenry county, and other delegations from Will and Kane counties. Race Track Water

NEW U. I. PLAN FOR MILK HOUSE PROVING POPULAR

Urbana, Ill.—A milk house plan recently issued by the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois is proving so popular with dairymen that more than one-third of 10,000 milk houses recently erected in the St. Louis territory has been built like it, according to E. G. Johnson, farm mechanics extension specialist. Dairymen in that territory turned to the plan when the St. Louis Board of Health recently secured an ordinance requiring a separate milk house or milk room for each dairy barn and setting up standards of construction for such houses.

While the plan for the house has been extensively used in the St. Louis area, it also will meet the minimum health requirements of most cities in and adjacent to Illinois at a low cost for house and overhead. The house was designed so that if kept painted it will be attractive. It is simple enough so that anyone accustomed to using tools can build it at a minimum expense.

The plan for the house and the general requirements of milk houses are printed in the form of a regular college circular, No. 371. The authors are W. A. Foster, assistant chief in rural architecture; H. A. Ruche, head of the dairy department, and C. S. Rhode, dairy extension specialist. The circular includes specifications for the house and a bill of materials. The house is 8 by 8 feet in size.

COOPERATION JUBILEE AT LA GRANGE

A jubilee of big dimensions by Cook County Farm Bureau members, families and friends, will start at 8:15 sharp next Monday evening in the big hall of LaGrange Masonic temple. This hall seats 700, and tickets are being given out in advance to members by the Farm Bureau office and township directors, so the most interested persons will surely get seats.

The Glenwood Training school band will live the jubilee, the star attractions to include a "second Lincoln-Douglas debate" between Larry Williams, manager of the Country Life Insurance company, and Donald Kirkpatrick, legal counsel of the Illinois Agricultural association. The subject of the debate will be: "Resolved, That the Illinois Farmer is not ready for Cooperative Marketing."

This will be the gala night of the year for the cooperative organizations of Cook county. Officers and directors of the Illinois Agricultural association are planning to be there; also officials of the American Farm Bureau federation. Mr. Ed. O'Neal, president of the national federation, has been invited to be present.

Since Cook county was second in the amount of cooperative life insurance sold in the state during April, thanks to Mr. Carnecross and his able assistants, this honor is being given to Cook county of a visit here of the state officials of the organization, and the presentation of the big debate, which is certain to be a hot one, full of sharp thrusts, mighty sledge hammer blows of argument, and keen humor. If anyone likes to hear a hot argument, especially on a subject he is full of himself, or thinks he ought to be, Monday night will give that opportunity. A delegation of about 25 are coming down from McHenry county, and other delegations from Will and Kane counties. Race Track Water

NEW U. I. PLAN FOR MILK HOUSE PROVING POPULAR

Urbana, Ill.—A milk house plan recently issued by the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois is proving so popular with dairymen that more than one-third of 10,000 milk houses recently erected in the St. Louis territory has been built like it, according to E. G. Johnson, farm mechanics extension specialist. Dairymen in that territory turned to the plan when the St. Louis Board of Health recently secured an ordinance requiring a separate milk house or milk room for each dairy barn and setting up standards of construction for such houses.

While the plan for the house has been extensively used in the St. Louis area, it also will meet the minimum health requirements of most cities in and adjacent to Illinois at a low cost for house and overhead. # VEGETABLES SOLD IN BUNCHES UNDER NEWER STANDARDS

Urbana, Ill.—Ten years ago it wasn't nearly as important to tie vegetables in bunches for market as it is now, according to J. P. McCollum of the horticultural department, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. Better grading and better handling have brought the change. Bunching is now practiced with all the early root crops, green onions, asparagus, kohlrabi, rhubarb, parsley, leeks, celery and sometimes sweet corn and various other products of the garden.

"The vegetables should be bunched and handled so as to present an attractive appearance. To this end it is desirable that they be packed into marketing containers with as little delay as possible after they are harvested. Exposure to the hot sun and dry winds wilt the tops and shrivel the roots. Consequently, just as soon as vegetables are harvested they should be shaded and cooled."

"Since bunching is done primarily for convenience in handling in retail stores, the bunches should be of the proper sizes for the ultimate consumer. Vegetables making up each bunch should be carefully graded and selected so as to increase the uniformity and attractiveness of the product."

"As the vegetables are likely to be wilted and dirty, they should be washed, preferably after bunching, in running water. Unless the roots are badly caked with dirt, they may be rinsed in a tank of water. However, the water should be changed often to prevent the spread of decay organisms and to insure cleanliness."

1½ Ton 131-inch Stake Truck—Price, including body $710. Dual wheels optional, $25 extra. With 157-inch wheelbase, including body $810, dual wheels standard.

Ton for ton . . . mile for mile
Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks
cost less to operate

To place your hauling on a minimum-cost basis—and keep it there—put Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks to work. Leading firms everywhere are practicing this sound economy. They are finding, by experience, that Chevrolet trucks give a lower transportation cost than any other trucks of equal capacity. Take fuel consumption. Chevrolet has definitely disproved the old theory that a six uses more gasoline than a four. Because of modern, efficient engine design, Chevrolet sedan deliveries are frequently giving 20 miles to the gallon or better; and Chevrolet 1½-ton trucks are making records that are relatively just as high. Then there is the matter of upkeep. On account of the ruggedness of Chevrolet bodies and chassis, service expense is held to the absolute minimum. "20,000 miles without opening the engine for service," "Always on the job," "It just goes and goes and goes" are typical remarks of Chevrolet six-cylinder truck operators. And from the standpoint of long life, many a Chevrolet speedometer reads 50,000 miles or more, yet the truck is still giving reliable service at low cost.

In picking out a motor truck, it's wise to buy as big fleet operators are buying—choose six-cylinder Chevrolets. A wide variety of Chevrolet-built bodies is now available. And delivered prices of Chevrolet trucks, complete and ready for work, are based on low chassis-cost and low body-cost, plus only reasonable charges for handling and financing.

Chevrolet 1½-ton chassis with 131" wheelbase $520

THEATRE SHOWS FOR NEXT WEEK

Janet Gaynor
At McVickers

A drama that strikes deep to the heart of every human being is "Daddy Long Legs," a Janet Gaynor-Warner Baxter co-starring picture now playing at McVickers.

You will laugh, perhaps shed a tear or two, but as the events transpire you cannot help but marvel at the sheer worship of this lonely waif for her unknown foster daddy.

Janet Gaynor plays Judy Abbott, an orphan girl, who is sent through college by an unknown benefactor played by that capable actor Warner Baxter. The pair meet throughout the picture but Judy is ignorant of the identity of her "daddy long legs," and Baxter is content to conceal his real name and hides his self-evident love for her. The complications that arise later give Janet a chance to do marvelous acting, which parallels her performances in "Seventh Heaven" and "Street Angel."

TOUR PARTY TO LEAVE SUNDAY ON SCENIC TRIP

Many Make Reservations for Washington in Last Few Days

Next Sunday will see a party of people leaving from Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect board the Baltimore & Ohio train, bound for Washington, D. C. If you want to make reservations, the deadline time has been extended by special arrangement to 3 o'clock next Saturday afternoon and if you make a last minute decision to take the trip, call at the Herald office and reserve your ticket.

Leave Sunday
The train Sunday will leave the Grand Central station at Harrison and Wells streets at 2 p. m., and the travelers will be well on their way across the Indiana and Ohio plains by nightfall.

Monday morning the train will pass through the Allegheny and Blue Ridge mountains and follow the picturesque Potomac river to Harper's Ferry. Here, in the quaint town renowned as the scene of John Brown's historic raid, the tourists will spend some time before continuing on their way to Annapolis.

The United States Naval academy will be reached early Monday afternoon, giving the travelers a chance to visit the Old State house where Washington surrendered his commission as commander-in-chief of the Continental army, and to review the famous midshipmen drill.

Monday evening, in time for dinner at the various hotels assigned the group on the tour, Washington will be reached, and the remainder of the evening will be free.

Plenty to See
Tuesday morning the sight-seeing will begin, taking in the Bureau of Printing, where paper money and postage stamps are made, the Old National museum, the new National museum, the capitol building and the White house. Following luncheon, the party will go to the Washington monument in motor coaches, and from there to the Pan-American building.

Dinner Tuesday night will be followed by a trip to the Congressional library. Early Wednesday morning the tourists will visit Georgetown, Arlington National cemetery, the Memorial amphitheatre, and the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. At Alexandria, Christ church where Washington and Lee worshipped will be visited, and the party will be escorted through Mount Vernon. After luncheon at the hotels, the party is free until the special train leaves Washington on the return home at 6:30 p. m. Thursday will see the party arriving once more in Chicago, due in at the station at 11 a. m.

One more tour to Washington over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad is being offered. For $35 all expenses are paid, including railroad fare, first class hotel accommodations, sightseeing bus charges, guide fees and all meals. The second trip will leave Chicago on June 28. For further information call the Herald, Arlington Heights 15, or stop in at the office, on Davis street, Arlington Heights.

Did You Know?
With apologies to Walter (Daily Mirror Columnist) Winchell, we add Things We Never Knew Until We Took a Trip to Washington (But That You Know All Along).

That the Japanese cherry trees along the Potomac bear no fruit.

That Martha Washington had a hole cut in the bottom of her bedroom door to let the cat in and out.

That all the telephone and light wires that clutter up our skyline are under ground in Washington.

That there is no roof over the Lincoln Memorial.

That the women of America own Mount Vernon and the estate is managed by a board of regents from every state in the union.

And that $35 could go so far.

Mr. and Mrs. August Wiemerslage's 32nd Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. August Wiemerslage of Bensenville, were pleasantly surprised Saturday, June 6, 1931, by 100 relatives and friends who remembered that it was their wedding anniversary. They planned that it should be a real surprise, so they all assembled at Walter Grischow's and from there the procession formed and drove to the Wiemerslage home. The surprise was a grand success for neither the bride nor groom knew the least about it until the cavalcade arrived blowing their car horns and making all the noise possible. They brought the musicians, Fred Kreckner, George Grischow and Henry Moeller with their instruments along. The barn floor was cleared and the young people spent the evening dancing while the old men played cards and the elder ladies had a happy social time. It was "a hard times party." All sure had a jolly good time in their overalls and old fashioned garments that were worn by many of the guests.

At midnight a wonderful lunch was served after which the dancing and fun continued until 3 o'clock a. m., when they departed for home. All had a wonderful time and sure wish to be present on the next such happy occasion.

How to Plant Home Grounds, Club Is Told

One of the most interesting meetings of the Garden club of Arlington Heights this year was Tuesday evening, June 9, at the home of Mrs. Helmer Olson in Derbyshire lane.

Mr. Frank K. Balthis of the Garden Park conservatory gave a lecture illustrated with colored slides. He praised the good garden clubs, and doing nowadays for horticulture. He told of coming horticultural tours to the West Indies, by way of New Orleans, that will take 16 days in all. This is a new kind of tour—not just to get beyond the three-mile limit, but to see orchids growing as common as dandelions are here, banana plantations, wonderful palms, and many other wonders. The steamers accommodate 80 to 90 persons; this tour is unique, and no doubt will become very popular.

Mr. Balthis told his hearers what an excellent place Arlington Heights is to raise things. A few main principles in planting, he said, must be considered:

The lawn is the foundation of the whole program. Open vistas should be arranged, the planting kept principally to the borders. Foundation planting is planting at the base of a residence, to break the effect. Tall things in the corners increase the appearance of height. Foundation plants must be finer than the coarser border backgrounds. Foundation planting should leave exposed the points of the house that are of architectural beauty, such as railings and chimneys.

In border planting, if one cannot afford to get everything at one time, Mr. Balthis suggests to plant the trees the first year, the shrubs the next, and the third year the perennials.

The smaller place is the most difficult to landscape. His advice is "don't overplant." Some say "plant thick—thin quick," but Mr. Balthis advises planting for permanency.

Trees should not be planted too close to the house. The shadow of the tree may fall on the house, but not dense shade. Trees recommended are the elm, alantus, thornless honey locust, Norway maple, walnuts, buckeyes and tulip trees. Trees should be cared for in youth, and branches that cross cut out.

In a small place, plant dwarf trees: Hawthorns, red bud, flowering crab and dwarf fruit trees. Even in small places, as shown in the slides of prize gardens, vistas and tropical effects are possible, and planting should blend with the house.

Perennials should be massed in groups in the borders.

Window boxes and vines should be used more.

Communities should plant areas and drives with shrubbery and perennials.

These are just a few of the many interesting facts told with illustrations and numerous colored slides.

This was one of the best of the many programs the Arlington Heights Garden club has enjoyed this year. The next meeting will be June 24 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Hausman on Pine avenue.

NOTICE

The persons guilty of stealing the hose and sprinkler from Rolling Green C. C. on the night of June 9th were seen and identified by their car number.

If the hose and sprinkler is not returned by Monday morning, June 15th, prosecution will follow.

Be prompt as we haven't much respect for petty thieves.

MANY SCOUTS REGISTER FOR CAMP

Due to favorable reports following the recent visit of Scouts, parents and leaders to Camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta, camp registrations are reported encouraging. There is still plenty of room in all periods however, for those that may be expecting to send their applications in within the next few days. The fact that the opening date of camp has been changed from the 15th, to the 22nd has made it possible for a number of Scouts to register for the first period and to spend two weeks at Scout camp before going into other types of activities for the summer.

Examine Scouts for Swimming

Examination blanks will be mailed out this week for those registered for the first week period. These blanks will require a physical examination by the family physician. Upon their arrival at camp the Scouts will be examined again by the camp physician who will visit the camp regularly to look after the general health of all the campers. Scouts will also be examined carefully in their ability to swim and are permitted to swim in roped off areas in keeping with their swimming ability.

A trained examiner of the American Red Cross Life Saving corps will be in charge of the water-front activities, including the use of all the water-front equipment, such as boats, canoes, slides for life floats, high dives, speed boat and aquaplaning, as well as the general swimming facilities.

Announce Training in Troop Camping

An over-night course in "Troop Camping and Troop Camp Leadership," will be held June 27 and 28 at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, under the personal direction of Mr. Chas. Smith of Columbia university.

Mr. Smith is a long-time scoutmaster and author of a number of Scout books, the most popular of which is "Games and Recreational Methods."

The course will start at 2:30 on Saturday afternoon and continue until a like time Sunday. Those participating will prepare all three weeks in addition to having instruction in the following subjects: "Choosing Camp Site and Setting Up Camp," "Fire Building," "Cooking," "Rustic Handicraft," "Overnight Hike Problems," "Nature Lore," "Recreational Games," and discussions.

In addition to men from the Northwest Suburban Council leaders, men from the North Shore, Chicago, Evanston and Lake county participate in this training. A large delegation from the Northwest Suburban council is expected.

EAGLE SCOUTS TO HONOR LINCOLN

Eagle Scouts of the Northwest Suburban council will go to Springfield to participate in the dedication of the Lincoln tomb, which has recently been rebuilt.

The group traveling by auto will leave here sometime Tuesday evening and will encamp at the Springfield Scout camp that night. They will return to Springfield early Wednesday morning, June 17, to participate in the parade and act as front line in the traffic around the tomb during the dedication ceremonies. They will also participate in other features of the program as well as having a sight seeing tour through the capital city. The group will return to their homes some time Wednesday evening. The chief figure at the dedication ceremonies will be President Hoover, who will according to present plans not only participate in the dedication ceremonies but will make other addresses. It is expected that the local group will number from ten to fifteen. Scout Executive Nimitz will make the trip with the group and will be in charge of arrangements for the entire pilgrimage.

Had to Come—New Line of Water Coolers From Frigidaire Corp.

A complete new line of electric water coolers has been announced by Frigidaire Corporation, subsidiary of General Motors. The refrigerating mechanism is covered by a three year guarantee. The coolers are finished in metallic lacquer, with chrome plated hardware. There are models for bottled water and for use with city pressure.

The new line is comprised of five models, of which three are of the individual type for office use with large units to meet the requirements of a general office or small industrial plant. In addition the company is building two tank type coolers for factories and public places. The larger of these will provide cold drinking water for 250 people, the announcement says.

Among the first places in which the new coolers will be installed is the Empire State Building, erected by Alfred E. Smith and associates in New York.

DRAINAGE NOTICE

STATE OF ILLINOIS, COUNTY OF COOK—SS.

In the County Court of Cook County to the June Term, A. D. 1931, the June 16th Day Thereof, In the Matter of Feehanville Drainage District Gen. No. 60014

YOU AND EACH OF YOU are hereby notified that on to-wit: the 5th day of June, A. D. 1931, and subsequent to the filing of the Commissioners of Feehanville Drainage District of their petition praying leave of Court to issue bonds of the Feehanville Drainage District, Sub District No. 1 to the amount of 95% of the unpaid balance in the Assessment Roll of said District as of July 1, 1931, the Judge of the County Court of Cook County, Illinois, after due consideration of the motion of counsel for said Commissioners sets the 16th day of June, A. D. 1931, at 10 o'clock A. M. as the time, and the County Court of Cook County, Illinois, as the place for hearing on said Petition, at which time and place each and every interested land owner has a right to appear to offer any evidence for or against the granting of the order of court thus requested.

The amount of bonds sought to be issued by the Commissioners pledging the full faith and credit of the said Feehanville Drainage District Sub District No. 1 of Cook County, Illinois, is $115,000.00 which sum is less than 95% of the

BANKERS PROTEST AGAINST ASSAULTS ON STATE POLICE

East St. Louis, Ill., June 10.—Following on the heels of a protest against any attempt to eliminate the Illinois State Highway Maintenance Police of legislative action made by the Chicago offices of the Illinois Bankers association, Paul S. Abt, president of that organization and vice president of the Southern Illinois National bank here, added his outspoken support to the empowering amendment and to the addition of fifty men to the force contained in the measure SB 398, now pending before the State legislature. Mr. Abt directed his remarks to all citizens and to all members of the legislature in the hope that there would be no misunderstanding as to the need for continued support of this organization of state police.

"That there is any question from any source of the value of the Highway Maintenance Police to the people of this State is a surprise to me," said Mr. Abt to interviewers here today. "The force has performed admirable work and we of East St. Louis have had quite recent evidences of their efficiency. Besides giving them all the power any police officer in Illinois should possess they certainly should be reinforced to meet the demands of present and future conditions. There is no extra expense attached to this increase to the tax payers as the road funds provide for such cost."

Counties and local communities unfortunately lack the funds necessary to properly combat criminals and law breakers, according to Mr. Abt, and should be given the continued protection now available in the Highway Maintenance Police.

Speaking for the bankers of Illinois, the East St. Louis banker challenged any statement to the effect that these police have been or would be used in labor disputes or for political activities and intimidation. "The Illinois Bankers Association's voice would be the loudest in crying down such attempts, which opponents of the measure charge might be the case."

Of course, it is well-nigh impossible to entirely prevent questionable judgment of over-zealous employees, but in the main, heretofore, I have never heard any criticism of the activities of the force."

unpaid balance in the said Assessment Roll as of July 1st, 1931, which roll has heretofore been confirmed by the County Court. The lands in question comprise all of the lands contained within the boundaries of Feehanville Drainage District, Sub District No. 1, as per maps, charts and plats on file in this cause which can be found in the office of the Clerk of the County Court of Cook County, Illinois, under general number 60014.

EAST MAINE

Mr. August Geweke made another trip to Springfield Tuesday evening in the interest of numerous bills up before the State Legislature.

The Chas Kerber and Wm. Gutzmier families of Chicago, and the George Collignon family of Des Plaines, were guests at the home of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Steil Sunday afternoon and evening.

Folk from here who enjoyed the Y. P. S. presentation of "The Time of His Life," at the Jerusalem Parish Hall, Morton Grove, Friday and Saturday, were surprised and delighted to see Harold Gatzke, an East Mainite, in one of the leading roles. The various parts in the play were all handled admirably by the respective players. Harold played the part of Mr. Wycomb, a pessimistic old gentleman, very tussly in matters pertaining to his health and who, with his ever present array of medicine bottles and hot water bags was a walking advertisement for a drug store. The play was quite successful.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pump entertained a large crowd of relatives and friends Saturday evening at a birthday party in honor of Mr. Pump. Cards and bunco, amusements old yet ever new, served to amuse the crowd, while birthday refreshments delightfully topped off the evening.

The outing sponsored annually by St. Matthew's Lutheran school was held June 3, at Gage's Lake, where not only the pupils but their parents and friends as well gathered for a delightful day in the open. The lake proved to be the biggest and best attraction of the day and fortunately the weather was suitable for those who cared to spend most of the time in the water. Several of the men in the party enjoyed the fishing and we understand they had good luck at that sport. It was the children's day and they all had an enjoyable time so the affair may be termed a success.

Emil Goettsche is the proud owner of a classy little Ford roadster.

The ball game between East Maine and Mt. Prospect was rained out Sunday in the third inning. Playing was very difficult, fielding and base running on the slippery grass was treacherous work and although Mt. Prospect had scored 1 run, the game was called in the home half of the third with Junie Jordan on first by virtue of a walk and with Bill Selke up to bat with 2 balls called. Next Sunday East Maine will play the Des Plaines Aces on the East Maine diamond. This is the second game scheduled between these two teams the first having been rained out several weeks ago.

An item of interest to some folk of this vicinity comes to us from St. James, Minn., telling of the death of Mr. August Sodemann of that city. Mr. Sodemann is an uncle of Mr. Walter Sternberg and had been ill some time when a stroke coming Tuesday brought his end. Funeral services were held Friday.

Mr. Henry Goettsche Sr., Ballard road, has been suffering with an attack of pleurisy the past ten days, and at times of writing, but a slight improvement had been shown in his condition. He was stricken rather suddenly while at work on the Ridgewood Cemetery and taken to his home where he has been bedridden since. Many friends are hoping for his speedy recovery.

A tragic accident occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sternberg, Milwaukee Ave., Monday, June 8, when Mr. Neils Cederberg, a painter, fell while painting the Sternberg house and was fatally injured. The accident occurred shortly before noon when a plank on which Mr. Cederberg was crossing from one ladder to another high in the air, suddenly broke and he was hurled to the ground unconscious. There were no bones broken but he sustained severe internal injuries. Medical aid was given him and he regained consciousness in two hours. He was later removed to the St. Betany hospital, Chicago where x-rays disclosed the true seriousness of his condition. He died at 6 a. m. on Tuesday. An inquest was held Tuesday afternoon with a verdict of "death caused by hemorrhages due to an accidental fall."

Mr. Cederberg was 76 years of age but agile and healthy and well able to follow out his chosen profession of painter. He was very quiet by nature but had a pleasing personality. He was in the habit of spending his summers in Chicago living with a daughter and spending the winters in Rhode Island. He is survived by six children. Funeral services were held Friday, June 12, from a chapel at 3176 N. Clark St., Chicago.

The screen offering for next week brings together two popular stars, Paul Lukas and Kay Francis, in "The Vice Squad."

In "The Vice Squad" Paul Lukas is seen as a "stool-pigeon," a man in the employ of the police, who finds out the haunts of the delinquents, gets evidence against them and effects their arrests.

Lukas is in love with Kay Francis, who he had met when he occupied a higher station in life. He cannot go out with her because of his lowly means of livelihood. During a period of despondency he meets Helen Johnson, a beautiful young authoress.

Beauties of Randhill Park Cemetery Appeal to Visitor

A Decoration Day observer visited the beautiful Randhill Park cemetery on Decoration Day under heavy rainfall.

He meditated thus: A short few years ago the Kirchhoff family here lived and worked this ground once a productive farm.

Today it is fascinating to observe what nature produces from the bosom of Mother Earth under the guidance of ambitious ingenuity. A magnitude of trees, shrubs, and flowers in bloom, with their varied coloring; crystallized lakes, wide roads with flanking parkades, each section magnificently rolled, with no gruesome stones in sight, all artistically specially designed memorials, beveled and polished, made of barre granite all flushed with the ground, illustrating forcefully what may be accomplished in the future.

All this is due to the combined efforts of the officers and directors of the Randhill Park Cemetery association, who sincerely give their best efforts to this enterprise in the endeavor to accomplish their aim, and to give to the public what it has long sought.

They who built this beautiful Memorial Park may pass on like others and be forgotten, but their work will stand—not only as a memorial for those by whom it was designed, but also for those lot owners whose foresight led them to help build. Mr. M. E. Wittelle, who has devoted 35 years of his life to the study of cemetery problems has resolved to put life into the cemetery and turn God's acres into a sacred place for the dead to rest in peace, beauty, and sunshine, and for the living to enjoy all this beauty, created by the Great Architect of this great universe; beautiful lakes, trees, shrubs, flowers and the sweet memories of those whom we have so loved.

The executives of the Randhill Park Cemetery Association are desirous to ascertain the number of people that have read the article of the observer.

We have read the observer's article in this issue and are greatly in accord with the writer in the development of the beautiful RANDHILL PARK CEMETERY, located on Rand Road, between State and Wilke Roads.
